

NOW READY.

THE CHRONICLE AND DIRECTORY
FOR 1876,
With which is incorporated
"THE CHINA DIRECTORY."

THIS Work, in the FOURTEENTH year of its existence, is NOW READY FOR SALE.

It has been compiled and printed at the Daily Press Office, as usual, from the best and most authentic sources, and no pains have been spared to make the work complete in all respects.

In addition to the usual varied and valuable information, the "CHRONICLE
AND DIRECTORY FOR 1876" contains a
CHROMOLITHOGRAPH

OF A
PLAN OF VICTORIA, HONGKONG;
THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENTS OF SHANGHAI.

A Chromo-Lithograph Plate of the
NEW CODE OF SIGNALS IN USE A THE PEAK;

also of
THE VARIOUS HOUSE FLAGS
(Designed expressly for the Work.)

MAPS OF HONGKONG, JAPAN,
THE
P. & O. COMPANY'S ROUTES,
AND
THE COAST OF CHINA;

ALSO, THE
NEW CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE—
HONGKONG;

besides other local information and statistics corrected to date of publication, tending to make this Work in every way suitable for Public, Mercantile, and General Offices. The present Volume also contains a Directory of Singapore.

The CHRONICLE AND DIRECTORY is now the only publication of its kind for China and Japan.

The Directory is published in two Forms—Complete at $5; or, with the Lists of Residents, Port Directors, Maps, &c., at $3.

Orders for Copies may be sent to the Daily
Press Office, or to the following Agents—

MACAO.....Mr. L. A. de Groot.

SWATOW.....Messrs. Quelch and Campbell.

AMOY.....Messrs. Wilson, Nichols & Co.

FORMOSA.....Messrs. Wilson, Nichols & Co.

FOOCHOW.....Messrs. Hedge & Co.

NINGPO.....Messrs. Kelly & Co., Shanghai.

SHANGHAI.....Messrs. Hall & Holt.

SAKEMBOURG.....Messrs. Hall & Holt and Kelly

HAKKOW.....Messrs. Hall & Holt and Kelly

CHENGHUA.....Messrs. Hall & Holt and Kelly

NEWCHWANG.....Messrs. Hall & Holt and Kelly

TIENSIN.....Messrs. Hall & Holt and Kelly

PEKING.....Messrs. Hall & Holt and Kelly

NAGASAKI.....The C. and J. Trading Co.

HOKKO, OSAKA.....The C. and J. Trading Co.

YOKOHAMA.....Mr. C. D. May, Japan Gazette
Office.

MANILA.....Messrs. J. de Loyze & Co.

SAIGON.....Mr. J. H. Bloom, Independent
Office.

SINGAPORE.....Messrs. Liddell and Martin.

BANGKOK.....Messrs. Malherbe, Jolliffe & Co.

LONDON.....Mr. F. Atgar, Clement's Lane

LONDON.....Messrs. Bell, Street, 30, Cornhill.

LONDON.....Messrs. Bell, Street, 21, Marchmont

Exchanges.

NEW YORK.....Messrs. S. M. Patterson & Co.

37 Park Row.

Hongkong, January 3d, 1876.

The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, APRIL 3, 1876.

THE statement by a Chinese writer on the Kashgar difficulty, published in another paper, will no doubt be read with interest. He traces the history of Chinese connection with Western Turkistan, from the first war with that country until its subjugation by Kien Ming, and then proceeds to notice the successful combination and rebellion of the Mahomedan tribes in 1862. He laments over the kind and money which have been wasted, and admits that the Chinese Government as far as ever from a satisfactory termination of the difficulty. In view of these facts, it has therefore, he considers, become urgently necessary "to devise measures to put an end to hostilities, to stop the drain on the Treasury, and to pacify the people of the frontier." With true Chinese obstinacy, he clings tenaciously to the idea of re-conquering the lost territories, and will not for a moment entertain the thought of surrendering even a portion of them. Some people, he says, "who have evidently never been beyond the Kien-ya Pass, go so far as to advocate partition of the territory, to which they are not even near, as if it were a safe and easy task." These words fully express, there is no room to believe, the sentiments of the majority of Chinese officials.

The writer draws up a plan for a campaign against the Mahomedan tribes of Chinese Turkistan who refuse to surrender, which looks pretty feasible on paper, but would, in all probability, be found rather more difficult in practice. He would march three armies, from different points, upon the rebels, and recommends that heavy cannon should be cast at the seat of war, to which an extra force of mousketeers with the requisite materials and appliances should be despatched with the expedition. It is very apparent that the writer represents the old school in China, who believe in the system of extermination rather than conciliation of the insurgents. He avers that the Mahomedans, as a race, only understand law—by which it is to be supposed he means force—and not kindness or reason. "Of a nature eminently senseless," he proceeds, "they stand in great fear of superior power, so that the very name of our army would be enough to appal them, and make them tremble at the sound of wind or rustling of grass or leaves." This piece of bombastic conceit, the style of which has become tolerably familiar to us, would no doubt provoke a scornful smile from the stern soldier who has grasped the reins of power in Kashgar if he could see it. The idea of a Chinese force of ten, twenty, or even forty thousand men causing him to tremble is sufficiently absurd. He possesses an effective army of somewhere thousand men, immensely superior both in discipline and equipment to the forces of the Chinese army. In fact of these considerations, this self-confident Chinaman who has undertaken to put out the way for the Chinese army, is to the Chinese force what the port of Kien-ya, Haifan, is opened for trade from the 1st instant.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially. At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is notified to the Government Gazette that information has been received through the British Majesty's Minister at Peking that the port of Kien-ya, Haifan, is opened for trade from the 1st instant.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.

It is stated that we are to have a two-day respite to the next Friday will be held at the City Hall (instead of at the Cathedral) this afternoon at 2.15 pm, officially.

At the Marine "Martyr's" Court on Saturday a man named W. Howe was charged by Police Sergeant Lindsay with beating out of the Civil Hospital. He was sentenced to one month hard labour.</

Extracts.

THE WORKMAN'S PROGRAMME.

There once was a common man,
And I'll tell you what he did.
He said, "I want to keep a cow;
But I can't keep it now."
They have taken my cow.
Nor left a blade of green,
And there's not a soul to tell of its place,
And the hedge and walls between."

And the children are white and sickly;
They say it's the kind of food;
For bread and tea for a growing child—
And it's a bad kind of food.

The man said, "I will not go."

And he went off on the road.

But that's when the Common went.

And we could not keep a cow."

And this is his youngest.

Who's dead, and May a year;

And oh! but she's a darling.

"Wi' her long white locks o' deer—

The deer it was a' she wanted."

But I'll find a mair, I'll find a mair,

For the farmers and their to Leman,

And the poor have never a cow."

They tell us as what is rises:

There are no more men now,

But it's not we want of all."

It's summat you heart can love,

And as I get a lay a drinkin'—

Up there at the Bury Mow;

For I my, what's the us o'avin'?

When you've get neither land nor cow?

I'll tell you one of my notions;

You Members o' Parliament thair,

Wi' your heads in the air for me,

I'll vote for none of your talkers,

But I'll find a mair, I'll find a mair,

Whill help me—dant want money—

To get both land and cow.

—Speculator.

B.

"BONNIE PRINCE CHARLIE."

The following poem, not without merit, is interesting as showing the intensity of the Jacobite feeling. It is not improbable that it was written by Miss Elizabeth Byron, the daughter of the stenographic doctor. Charming Bessy records in her diary that she, with other young ladies of similar feelings, sat up all night making cockades for the Highlanders to wear on St. Andrew's Day.

NOTES BY A YOUNG LAD UPON SEEING HER PICTURE.

• PRINCE CHARLES.

What Britain can save that heavenly face,
And don't his being of the martyr's race.
Then every feature does his birth declare;
The mountain and the sea are there.
The sun and the birds, the Whales and the deer,
It speaks at once the Stuart and the Prince.
Oh! glorious youth, it's evidently plain
By thy majestic looks thou'rt born to reign.
My heart bleeds when I view thy noble stade,
As great a man as ever did the world abide.

And on other terms I much would be.

But to defend thy plucky Cane and Thae.

As for my life, I'd freely choose to die,

But now can only save thee with my Muse.

Chi was my pen a sword thy foes to meet.

—Tid by the conquered World beneath thy feet.

There is a passage in her diary of which the earlier lines appear a verification. The lines are now printed for the first time from a contemporary copy.—Manchester Guardian.

ROMANTIC STORY OF STRADELLA.

It is impossible to separate our sense of the beauty and earnestness of Stradella's music from the memory of his romantic history, his devoted attachment, and tragic end. Being engaged in the service of the Republic of Venice to compose operas for the carnival, he achieved a great success, both with his compositions and his splendid voice.

A Venetian noble, whose mistress was a passable singer, invited Stradella to give her some lessons; and between the master and his lovely scholar there soon sprang up an affection which led eventually to their escaping together one night, and setting out for Roma. The noble, enraged beyond measure, immediately hired assassins to follow the fugitives, and put them to death.

The ruffians soon found Stradella at Roma, where he was on the point of giving an oratorio in the Church of St. Giovanni Laterano; and, as the story goes, waited through the performance for a fitting opportunity for putting their purpose into execution, but were so moved by the worldliness beauty of Stradella's voice and music, that they relented; and, with many tears, confessed to him what had been their mission; and protested that they were incapable of the crime of robbing Italy and music of so great a genius. Warned by this adventure, the lovers fled to Turin, whither they were pursued by the implacable vengeance of the Venetian; and Stradella was attacked and wounded by three assassins.

From these injuries he ultimately recovered, and perhaps thought himself safe, from further danger; but the anger of his persecutor was not to be so easily appeased, and, shortly after, Stradella having taken his Oaths to Genoa on an excursion, the pair were barbarously murdered in their sleep, about the year 1681. "So perished," says his biographer, "the most excellent minstrel of that day in all Italy."—Macmillan's Magazine.

ANECDOSE OF CROMWELL.

An English merchant-ship was captured, during a period of profound peace with France, by a vessel of that nation, and carried into St. Malo, where she was condemned, and sold for the benefit of the captors, upon some frivolous and groundless pretence. The master of the merchant man happened to be an honest Quaker, immediately on his return to England presented a petition, complaining of the ingratitude, and praying for redress, of the Protector in council. On hearing the case, Cromwell informed the council he would take the affair in his own hands, and ordered the master to attend him the next morning. After a strict examination into the particulars of the case, finding the master to be a plain, honest man, who had embarked in no illegal traffic, he asked him if it would be the better of a letter to Paris. The man assenting, he desired him to prepare for the journey without delay, and wait on him again the following morning. On the next morning he gave the master a letter to Cardinal Mazarin, with directions not to wait longer than three days for an answer. This answer, he informed him, was to be nothing less than the full value of what he might have made of his ship and cargo; desiring him to tell the cardinal that if it was not paid in three days, he had strict orders from him to return home. The honest Quaker appears to have followed the injunctions of the Protector to the very letter, and meeting with the usual abiding evasions, so common among diplomats, took his leave on the third day, and returned without accomplishing the object of his mission. "Well, friend," demanded the Protector, on seeing him, "have you obtained your money?" Being answered in the negative, he told the Quaker to leave his address with his secretary, promising to let him hear from him shortly. Without involving himself in the delays, trickeries, and evasions of diplomatic negotiations—without leading to any satisfactory results—without even daring to repeat his demand, or explain the ground of his proceeding, this distinguished statesman issued orders to seize every French ship which his cruises fell in with, and bring them into port. In pursuance of these orders several captures were made, and their cargoes ordered by the Protector to be immediately sold. Out of the produce of these sales he paid the Quaker the full value of his ship and cargo; and, serving for the French ambassador, then resident in London, he acquainted him with the sum he had taken, and the reason of his doing so, informing him at the same time that there was a balance out of the sales, which should be paid to him if he pleased, for the purpose of returning it to the French owners.

AMERICAN SOLDIERSHIP.

It can hardly be said that the plains of the Far West or the swamps of Florida are more difficult ground than the bush of Ashdown or Silesia, and he had made good-hire there to a young girl whom he hoped to make his wife England was a rich country. A fair year of absence would put money in his pocket; and he would return with a good English pronunciation, which would be of value. So he came to England, but he did not find the streets paved with gold. It was after long waiting that he got his first appointment, and that appointment was the German professorship at Miss Main's school. At the present moment he believed he had forfeited this one chance. He came forward to her, and she might have seen that there was something very like tears in his pale blue eyes. "Yes, she has told you, and it is quite true," said he, throwing out his hands. "What can I say? But if you will forgive it, I will apologize to her."—Madame Violet, in Macmillan's Magazine.

NOT SUCH A GOOSE AS IT SEEMED.

A goose was perhaps the keenest appreciation of humor of any animal, unless it be the lion and the elephant. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a heraldic omnibus; then came along the geese, which each had its own and enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little gray paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow open gate gave entrance into the farmyard, and an evening draw on the geese ranged themselves in a row, near this Thermopylae. Obviously, sunset-time was approaching, and the pig was about to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly, the geese had given each other the word, not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without going toll. First there came up a jolly good-humored pig, trotted carefully along with a confidence which puffed him like a